CherryPy is an object-oriented web application framework using the Python programming language. It is designed for rapid development of web applications by wrapping the HTTP protocol but stays at a low level and does not offer much more than what is defined in RFC 7231.. CherryPy can be a web server itself or one can launch it via any WSGI compatible environment.

Hi, I totally agree with you, but I have some other thoughts and lets just put aside the fact that jQuery is not a framework. I have just spent 6 months wrangling Django, more specifically the admin side of the framework, and yes, it is an opinionated beast.

Frameworks don't make any sense - good coders code, great

Welcome. There's a lot of outdated information on the Web that leads new PHP users astray, propagating bad practices and insecure code.
