Built to perform: A facile, one-step hydrothermal method is used to synthesize a 3D, symmetric, flowerlike Sb₂S₃ nanostructure (see figure) for application as a photoelectric material. The structure is composed of numerous nanoneedles, which provided a large void fraction and specific surface area, and has better electrocatalytic activity and charge-transfer ability than that of platinum.

Sociotechnical systems (STS) in organizational development is an approach to complex organizational work design that recognizes the interaction between people and technology in workplaces. The term also refers to the interaction between society's complex infrastructures and human behaviour. In this sense, society itself, and most of its substructures, are complex sociotechnical systems.
